

What is Domestic Abuse?

Domestic Abuse is a pattern of behavior that is used by one person to control another person
There is no single type of victim just as there is no single type of abuse

- Intentionally and repeatedly humiliate, demean, criticize, manipulate, name-call or guilt partner
- Making fun of one's beliefs, physical appearance, disability, intelligence, friends, family
- Use of immigration status, disability or any other vulnerability to force unwanted actions or deny needs
- Isolate, limit or forbid contact with children, friends, family

- Forcing sex or sex acts with partner or with others
- Unwanted exposure to sexual situations (pornography, photography, filming, etc.)
- Verbal or behavioral sexual harassment
- Threatening sexual violence
- Withholding sex and affection
- Refusing to pay bills or take care of other basic needs until you have sex with him/her
- Use of demeaning names after sex

- Refusing to provide money for necessities
- Control all monetary decisions - financial accounts, cash, credit cards
- Deny or restrict money through preventing access or allowance
- Insist partner ask for money
- Force partner to surrender money they earned
- Steal, defraud partner's money or assets.
- Exploit financial resources or property
- Interfering with partner's work performance by harassing, calling or visiting repeatedly

- Push, hit, choke, kick, bite, cut, burn, spit, shake, slap, pinch partner, children or other family to cause harm
- Use of objects or weapons to inflict harm
- Destroying property
- Force-feed food, alcohol, drugs or other substance
- Deny food, water, medicine or sleep
- Restrain or prevent leaving room or home
- Locking out from home

Safety Plan

Having a plan is crucial for the safety and well-being of anyone in an abusive relationship

Unitarian Universalist Santa Fe

Esperanza Shelter

Crisis Hotlines:

505-473-5200

1-800-473-5220

www.esperanzashelter.org

NATIONAL
DOMESTIC VIOLENCE
HOTLINE

1-800-799-7233

TTY 1-800-787-3224

www.thehotline.org

If someone you know is in immediate danger

Still with an abusive partner?

Be ready to leave

- ✓ Always keep money on person
- ✓ Keep important papers such as social security cards, birth certificates close at hand
- ✓ Always keep a cell phone charged
- ✓ Back car into driveway and keep it filled with gas

Build a safety network

- ✓ Memorize all important telephone numbers
- ✓ Make a list of trusted people to contact
- ✓ Establish a code word or sign so that designated family, friends, neighbors, teachers or coworkers know when to call for help

Protection during an incident

- ✓ Think of a safe place to go avoid rooms without an exit (i.e. bathroom) and any rooms with weapons (i.e. kitchens)
- ✓ If a partner strikes out protect face with hands and arms
- ✓ If knocked down, curl up into a ball protecting head, face, and stomach
- ✓ Don't try to argue or reason with the batterer
- ✓ If leaving by car keep the driver's door unlocked until safely in the car alone

Left an abusive partner?

Make it harder to be found

- ✓ Change personal phone number and screen all calls
- ✓ Change all exterior door locks

Stay alert

- ✓ Avoid staying home alone whenever possible
- ✓ Vary daily routines so that the abuser is unable to predict whereabouts
- ✓ Should batterer show up, be sure to have an exit strategy
- ✓ If need arises to meet former partner, do it in a public place and let someone else know or bring someone to the meeting

Be smart and document

- ✓ Save and document all contacts, messages, injuries or other incidents involving the batterer

Unitarian Universalist Santa Fe